AEROGAVIOTA I N-FLIGHT CREW

TEAM JAMAICA goes on a sales blitz in CURACAO & ARUBA

AUGUST 12-15

Location : 24ora.com Internet News Station HQ / ARUBA

InselAir started operations in August 2006 with one Embraer 110-P1 Bandeirante flying from Curaçao. The first flight was to the neighbouring island of Aruba. Soon after the daily scheduled flights to Aruba, Insel Air started with flights to the other neighbouring island of Bonaire and also Las Piedras in Venezuela. The company has grown into an airline with 13 aircrafts (Embraer Bandeirante, Fokker 50 and MD82/83) - eleven (11) of which are owned by Insel Air. With the addition of these aircrafts, the total number of seats in Insel Air's fleet rose spectacularly from a very modest 19 seats in 2006 to 1,259 seats in 2013.

Insel Air has maintained steady and positive growth over the years of operation and are now in expansion mode via special agreements and strategic alliance. A recent agreement with KLM –Royal Dutch Airline for mutual interline cooperation was reached, thus expanding their services to their passengers. As of March 2011, passengers carrying a KLM ticket can now also fly to all Insel Air destinations. Passengers will be transported on one ticket and with automatic baggage transfer via InselAir's hubs in Curacao and St.Maarten. Due to this agreement, KLM passengers can now connect seamlessly and continue their flights to more destinations via InselAir's flights. A win/win situation for everyone involved. For Kingston (Jamaica), San Juan (Puerto Rico), Santo Domingo in the Dominican Republic, Port au Prince (Haiti) and Las Piedras (Venezuela), KLM and Insel Air have reached a code share agreement. On December 1, 2012, code share flights commenced between both carriers.

On August 12 , TEAM JAMAICA hopped on an INSEL AIR Flight to CURACOA & ARUBA to resuscitate and excite the travel market. The nine (9) member group literally 'beat the pavement' for the better part of 3 days— going from one travel agency to the next, paying courtesy calls on the major media houses (print /television/internet) facilitating promotional interviews on the new excellent AIR SERVICE provided by Insel Air between destinations and why JAMAICA should be high on the list of places to visit again and again. This awesome air service connects us every MONDAY & FRIDAY from their main hub in Curacao to Kingston JAMAICA ; you can island hop to ARUBA only 15 minutes away from Curacao. The flight connections are endless. Think ... Fantastic Shopping, Waterfront Cafes, Thrilling outdoor adventures - ahhhh just get away from it all!

Book your next vacation with INSEL AIR— GO places!

NORMAN MANLEY INT'L AIRPORT COPS AWARD AT RECENT AIRPORT SERVICE QUALITY (ASQ) FIELD WORK FORUM

The Norman Manley Int'l Airport was announced winner of the BEST GROUPING CATEGORY in the Latin America and the Caribbean Airport section at the Airport Service Quality (ASQ) Fieldwork Awards—part of the ASQ Forum held recently in the Dominican Republic.

The ASQ Fieldwork Awards gives recognition to airports that achieve the highest standards in Airport Service Quality fieldwork by exceeding the ASQ minimum fieldwork requirements. The ASQ programmes identify and disseminate best practices from top performing airports worldwide.

The BEST GROUPING AWARD rewards excellence in the adherence to the survey guidelines which render reliable data for further research and benchmarking.

This award is a testimony to NMIA's commitment to best practice in all areas of the airport operations and continuous improvement in service delivery.
